Special to the News.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Oct. 25.

The Synod of the Presbyterian Church of North Carolina assembled at the Presbyterian Church of this place last evening at 8 o'clock. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. John Douglass, of Mecklenburg Presbytery, from Acts viii., 35, last clause. The Synod was then organized by the election of Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Wilson, of Wilmington, as Moderator. After this the Synod adjourned to this morning at 9 o'clock.

The first business was the election of a Stated Clerk, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late lamented and beloved Jacob D. D., who died suddenly while attending Orange Presbytery at Newbern, last April.

The Rev. Wm. H. West was elected, and it will make a most efficient and accurate officer of the Synod.

WILD WORK OF THE STORM.

On the Chesapeake--Fearful Destruction in Philadelphia.

By Telegraph to the News.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24.—Arrivals from down the bay this morning bring a few particulars of the disasters on the Chesapeake. The steamer Express, which left this port Tuesday afternoon for Washington and landings on the Potomac, foundered Tuesday night, a short distance above the mouth of the Potomac. Captain Baker was rescued from a fragment of a boat and taken to Crisfield, and arrived here this morning. He reports nine of the crew and passengers probably lost. The Shirley, of the York River Line, is ashore at Barren Islands.

The steamer's upper saloon was carried away, and she rapidly filled and sank. The scene at the wreck was horrible in the extreme. The nine men taken to Crisfield were the only ones saved, so the loss of life must have been great.

The steamer Ida and 23 schooners are reported ashore.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23d.—A tempestuous gale, unprecedented in severity, swept over this city early this a. m., commencing about 2:30 o'clock, and reaching its height between 6 and 7:30 a. m. During these brief morning hours incalculable damage was done by the wind, which at 2:45 p. m., was blowing at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour in a westerly direction. It gradually increased in fury, and obtained a velocity of seventy-two miles an hour. As it was now, it ever before, has there been such damage done in the streets, public squares, and all along the river fronts. Many of the public school buildings are damaged, and public squares devastated. Over 40 churches of all denominations are more or less damaged by the demolition of steeples etc. The shed for departing trains at the Pa. railroad depot in West Philadelphia, was demolished, involving a heavy loss. The large depot of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, at the Washington avenue wharf, was reduced to ruins, and the South Side Pennsylvania grain elevator in the immediate vicinity, was blown in. Two spans of the Falls of Schuylkill bridge, on the Reading Railroad, fell in, stopping all travel. Numerous disasters to shipping are reported. Seven persons were killed in the city, and about seventy-five injured.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The Signal Corps Station at Cape Henry reports the ship A. S. Davis, of Searsport, Me., as ashore eight miles south of the station. The vessel and cargo are a total loss. The crew of nineteen men are all lost with the exception of one.

The Tramp Problem.

Boston Herald.

In all parts of the country tramps are becoming boldly offensive again, and a number of murderous assaults have been noted within the past few days in different localities of the North. A New Scheme for River Improvement.

Springfield Republican.

An experiment which promises incalculable improvement to the river navigation of the country is the introduction of the Chamber of Commerce in the Ohio river, a few miles south of Pittsburgh, Pa. A government appropriation of about $400,000 is to be expended on the work, the design of which is primarily to give Pittsburg a harbor of navigable depth at all seasons, and further to show the feasibility of rendering the whole length of the Ohio navigable at the lowest water by a succession of these dams. The peculiarity of the dam is that it consists of a series of wicks which can be raised or lowered at will by hydraulic power. When the stream is high, the wicks bend low beneath the flood, and boats pass over them; when the water falls as midsummer approaches, the wicks are hoisted, and the confined waters become of sufficient depth to float the river craft, which will pass the dam by means of a lock. This dam is a French institution, and is successfully applied to many of European rivers. Col. Mahan, who is representing the construction of the Pittsburg dam, stakes his professional reputation on its success. Such a result certainly opens immense possibilities of increased transportation capacity in American rivers.

The English Financial Situation.

By Telegraph to the News.

The London Times begins to regard the English financial situation as serious, and probably has reason. It is allowable to the American people to rejoice that their own situation is sounder than that of England, but we do not believe we can profit in the long run by a commercial revolution there. It will result in such shrinkages in capital and wages as will greatly reduce the cost of all British manufactures, and so enable them to compete with us more easily in the markets of the world, reducing their ability to consume American provisions.

Chair of Dist. Ex. Com.

The Farmer and Mechanic for this week is on our table with its usual feast of good things. The "Grange organ" seems prosperous.

An inundation recently carried away the dike on the Damietta branch of the Nile and immersed 80,000 acres of land, on which were fifteen villages. Ten thousand men are engaged in building a new dike.

A spectacular drama, whose scene is laid in the garden of Eden, is now on the boards at Niblo's. The papers speak gloatingly of the beauty of the undresses. There is certainly a choice opportunity for a display of natural talent.

The grades in the Legion of Honor conferred on Americans Tuesday in Paris, form a gratifying addition to the long list of awards which our industries received there. In placing Mr. Edison among the chevaliers, the French President has in particular evinced a progressive spirit, as well as a sense of enlightened discrimination.

News now comes that negotiations are pending between Austria, France and England with the object of securing a common treatment of all European questions, as a counterpoise to Russia, and to substitute for the Kaiserbund an entente between France, England and Austria. Count Von Beust's appointment as Ambassador to Paris is believed to be connected with this project.

The anxiously expected answer of the Afghan Amir to the Indian Viceroy has been received at Simla. The Amir openly defies the British, saying that they may do their worst; the issue he leaves to God. This reply has been sent to England, and will probably cause renewed excitement there. It is denied that there ever has been an Afghan Envoy at Constantinople. It is, however, announced that the Amir has sent one to the Czar.

The Narrow Gauge.

There are seventy-three convicts now at work on the Chester and Lenoir Narrow Gauge, under the efficient management of Mr. Joseph F. Thring. Things are moving very briskly and the prospects for the road to Lenoir are becoming more flattering to the citizens of Caldwell every day. The force is now at work on a section one mile from Lenoir, which is the heaviest work the other side of the river. Capt. Dwight is now in Lenoir busy with his office work, after making different surveys of the road. The News watches the progress of all our railroads especially in Western North Carolina, with the deepest interest. That portion of our State needs only railroad development to become one of the most prosperous sections in the whole Union.

Wake County's Choice for U. S. Senator.

Under a resolution of the last Democratic County Convention, which appears elsewhere in our columns to-day, the Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Wake County, announces that a primary election will be held on November 5, to instruct the two Democratic members elect to the Legislature from this county for whom to cast their ballots in caucus for United States Senator. At such primary election every democratic elector is entitled and requested to vote. The democratic press of the State have very generally called upon Senator Merrimon to declare whether he would abide by the caucus or not, but hitherto without any response. The time has now arrived when ordinary fair dealing, as well as his self-interest, requires that he should define his position. If he remain silent those votes which are cast for him under the impression that he will abide the caucus will be wasted by that silence and should he not abide it. We do not believe that Senator Merrimon would be willing to profit by votes obtained by any misimpression in any way created by himself. On the other hand, if he intends to abide the caucus he offers it to his friends and himself to say so and get the full benefit of loyalty to the party.

Not merely as a Democratic paper but as a paper published in Wake county, we express the confident hope and belief that this distinguished candidate for Senatorial honors will now define his position that the Democratic party of Wake county may vote understandingly at the primary election on the fifth of November.

Our public men have always been willing to declare their positions on any point which might affect a popular vote for or against themselves.

A Meaningless Phrase.

That posted journal, the Washington Post, thus discourses about the President and his policy:

Mr. Hayes has authorized a newspaper correspondent to say that he had no intention of changing his Southern policy.

This assurance might have been gratifying provided there had ever been any danger. As we understand the situation, Mr. Hayes had about as much chance to "change his Southern policy" as has to "change his Northern policy,"

It makes no difference what he does.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

What is done daily, Prof. W. H. Hayes placed beauty within the reach of every unblushing daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known as the true secret of beauty, and called

IT MAKES A MASTON OF 35 OR 40 LOOK NOT MORE OLD THAN 25. IT MAKES THE RUSTIC MANNERED MAN LOOK AS CULTIVATED AS A CITY BOY.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every draw and wrinkle. It is the best face wash for the skin. It is like like in its effects that the water observe cannot detect its use.

BUT SUCH A THING AS A "SOUTHERN POLICY" IS NOT POSSIBLE TO MR. HAYES. HE CANNOT ALTER THE CONDITION OF A SOUTHERN STATE ANY MORE THAN THAT OF A STATE EAST OF WEST. WHY THEN KEEP UP SUCH A USELESS SYMBOL OF SPEECH AS THE WORDS "SOUTHERN POLICY"? THEY MEAN NOTHING EXCEPT AS A REMINISCENCE OF OPPRESSION AND A MOMENT OF USURPATION. THEY SURVIVE ONLY IN THE MEMORIES OF FUGITIVE CARPET-BAGGERS, WHOSE SUPPLIES HAVE BEEN CUT OFF, AND WHO HAVE NO WHERE OUTSIDE OF MASSACHUSETTE TO LAY THEIR HEADS.

The Red Man's Destiny.

The recent uprising of a few of the Indian tribes, whose hasty sweep of death calls back vividly the butcheries and burnings of earlier times, has directed more than usual attention to these aborigines, over whom the paternal government is supposed to exercise sway and whom it holds in its tender care.

It has long been a solemn thought on the whole an unsatisfactory conceit of the American people that the red man is passing away. He has been likened to the withered leaf of autumn, to the setting sun, and the numerous other images expressive of retirement from the scene. Poets have sung his requiem and philosophers have moralized concerning the causes of race decay and extinction, while the white man has calmly congratulated himself upon the prospect of a solution of the Indian problem with which neither peace policy, war policy, post trader nor Indian ring can interfere. But before the calcium light of inexorable figures the vision vanishes. The red man is not passing away. On the contrary, he is slowly but surely on the increase. The prospect is far better for renewed demands for subsistence, rations, ammunition and blankets, a new crop of Indian robbers and new battles for Indian policy, than it is for a disappearance, either of the Indian or the Indian problem.

It is denied that there ever has been an Afghan Envoy at Constantinople. It is, however, announced that the Amir has sent one to the Czar.

The Mystery of Yellow Jack.

The medical fraternity having failed to discover the nature of the yellow fever, the journalists of New Orleans have undertaken to drive it into a corner by the inductive system. They have boiled down their observations during the present season, and the result is found in the following facts:

Yellow fever spreads from its initial focus by slow degrees. Persons who spend the day in the infected district and the night in those which are not infected rarely contract the disease. Persons who reside in adjoining towns not infected, visit New Orleans in safety provided they return before nightfall.

From this it is inferred that the germs of yellow fever are generally taken into the system during the night. It was further observed that it took the fever a month to extend itself from its original district below Canal street and above Jackson street, although persons were in constant communication between these sections during the time mentioned. From this fact it is presumed that yellow fever progressed very slowly and uniformly. It is further presumed that the yellow fever spore is propagated at night, from the fact that many of the lower orders of organisms, such as vibrios, infusoria, bacteria, etc., which, by the way, are short-lived, are only developed in darkness. Moisture is also believed to be essential to yellow fever, as germs are also conveyed in bilge water. Moisture is also plentiful during the hours of the night in the forms of dew and mist. If these facts are as stated, they furnish a basis for the study of the disease and should he not abide it. We do not believe that Senator Merrimon would be willing to profit by votes obtained by any misimpression in any way created by himself. On the other hand, if he intends to abide the caucus he offers it to his friends and himself to say so and get the full benefit of loyalty to the party.

On the other hand, if he intends to abide the caucus he offers it to his friends and himself to say so and get the full benefit of loyalty to the party.

Not merely as a Democratic paper but as a paper published in Wake county, we express the confident hope and belief that this distinguished candidate for Senatorial honors will now define his position that the Democratic party of Wake county may vote understandingly at the primary election on the fifth of November.

Our public men have always been willing to declare their positions on any point which might affect a popular vote for or against themselves.

A Meaningless Phrase.

That posted journal, the Washington Post, thus discourses about the President and his policy:

Mr. Hayes has authorized a newspaper correspondent to say that he had no intention of changing his Southern policy.

This assurance might have been gratifying provided there had ever been any danger. As we understand the situation, Mr. Hayes had about as much chance to "change his Southern policy" as has to "change his Northern policy,"

It makes no difference what he does.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

What is done daily, Prof. W. H. Hayes placed beauty within the reach of every unblushing daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known as the true secret of beauty, and called also conveyed in bilge water. Moisture is also plentiful during the hours of the night in the forms of dew and mist. If these facts are as stated, they furnish a basis for the study of the disease and should he not abide it. We do not believe that Senator Merrimon would be willing to profit by votes obtained by any misimpression in any way created by himself. On the other hand, if he intends to abide the caucus he offers it to his friends and himself to say so and get the full benefit of loyalty to the party.

Not merely as a Democratic paper but as a paper published in Wake county, we express the confident hope and belief that this distinguished candidate for Senatorial honors will now define his position that the Democratic party of Wake county may vote understandingly at the primary election on the fifth of November.

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY..... OCTOBER 25, 1878.

THE CITY.

Weather Probabilities.

WADDESDORF, D. C., Oct. 24.
The South Atlantic States, at or prior cloudy weather; preceded in North Carolina by rain areas and northwesterly winds; stationary or rising temperature and pressure.

Index to New Advertisements.

R. N. MITCHELL—Boiler Maker.
J. M. CALLUM—Auction.
KELLY, PURFOY & BREWER—Local
notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The postoffice is now kept open all night.

Bright skies and better business came hand in hand yesterday.

The old lumber north of the postoffice was removed yesterday.

It is said that Gen. W. D. Jones will open his campaign in Chatham in a few days.

The list of premiums awarded at the late Fair will be published tomorrow.

Pastors of the city churches are requested to send in to-day notices of changes in Sunday's services.

The recent heavy rains have flooded cellars in some portions of the city, and great inconvenience arises therefrom.

Milton Nobles, whose comic play the "Phoenis," made such a hit here, will probably appear at Tucker Hall some time in December.

The city has lapsed into its old state of quiet, which nothing will now disturb, save perhaps some circus, until the Legislature assembles.

Gov. Vance has rented the Battle mansion on Fayetteville street, and will occupy it this winter. The residence and grounds is one of the finest in the city.

The auction sale of unawarded premiums, in the Bagley building, drew quite a crowd last evening. The sales will continue to-day at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m.

The Raleigh Advocate estimates the membership of the Methodist Church, South, in North Carolina at 70,000; all branches of Methodism at 115,000.

Now that the trees in front of the postoffice have been cut away, the scrubs stand at its southeast corner should come down also. They are but poor ornaments and give little to the way of shade.

The business office is delighted to learn that the telegraph office will be removed to a ground floor. The telegraph officials here always have regard to the wishes and convenience of the public.

The old shanty that stands in the middle of Marin street is no longer owned or occupied by the government, and the license given for its erection has therefore expired. Let it be removed.

The farmers through this entire section of the State will be gratified and benefited by the establishment of a Sugarcane Service Station here. Charlotte, Wilmington and Asheville already have them.

The condition of several of the principal streets is spoken of as not what it should be. The unevenness of some of these thoroughfares is such that all the charm is taken out of a drive.
At the same time, the street gang has done some excellent work.

The class in callisthenics connected with the Busy Bee Band will please meet at Peace Institute this (Friday) afternoon at 4 o'clock, p. m. The President requests any who desire to join this class to be present on this occasion.

October 25th, 1878.

For the Sufferers.

The sum of $7 was yesterday received at the Executive office, having been sent by Miss Mary Patterson, of Laurel Hill.
The money was sent to New Orleans.

Lodged in Jail.

A negro whiskey vendor who has a rum mill at the old fair grounds, was lately before the Mayor for retailing without license, and was fined $25 and costs. He refused to pay and was yesterday lodged in jail. His name is Dick Woods.

T. R. Purnell, Esq.

In another column appear the law card of this able gentleman, whose office is at U. S. Commissioner, is in the government building. Mr. Purnell is ever prepared to give thorough attention to all matters entrusted to his charge.

Very Good Work.

A. E. Forte, of Franklinton, picked 402 pounds of seed cotton one day this week. This bit of good work should excite the emulation of the hundreds of pickers, and the backs in the fields around the city. Can any of the numberless crowd beat this day's work?

Convicts.

Sheriff Samuel H. Taylor, of Surry county, yesterday delivered to the penitentiary authorities two prisoners: Geo.
W. Wetherly, colored, convicted of lar-gacy and sentenced to 7 years' imprisonment, and Amos Bryan, white, sent on for 5 years, for the crime of manslaughter.

The Farmer and Mechanic.

The Farmer and Mechanic of Oct. 24 appeared yesterday. At 11 a. m. a good news. The organ of the Orange and the State Agricultural Department, the F. and M. seem exceedingly prosperous. It fills the long felt want of a good and successful farmer's weekly paper published in the State.

The Drainage Question.

The great trench for the sewer piping crosses steeply up Fayetteville street, and is now nearly as far as Davis. There will probably be a number of connections made with the drain. Would it not be a proper thing for the next Legislature to take some steps towards securing drainage for the capitol? As it now is, the arrangements as to drainage and heating are of the most primitive kind, and need improvement, as well as the sake of health as of comfort.

The Sale of Wood on the Streets.

The scene of a poorly clad woman standing near a miserable apoplexy for a load of wood in a tumble down cart, drawn by a diminutive steer, and asking the price of the load, but turning away when some fabulous sum is named, is one of daily occurrence. The extor-tionate charges for fuel in such cases should be stopped after a time. The way probably these high prices can be reduced to something more reasonable.
Some people may object, but cannot the city authorities bring some power to bear. It will not do to be always at the mercy of this species of cormorant.

Objecting to Newspaper Aid.

The revenue collector at Little Rock, Arkansas, some time ago wrote to Acting Commissioner Rogers, at Washington, complaining that the publication of the plans of the movement in regard to the entrenched distilled of that state caused him to abandon their rifle for the collector and his posse had an opportunity of dislodging them.
The collector prefers to have the glory of such victories himself instead of allowing the newspapers to carry it off.

The Coming Election.

It is now but a brief space to election day. Only a couple of weeks, and then the scenes of August last will be re-enacted. The clever idea of the Register of Deeds, of instructing the parties at the various precincts to place the votes polled for each candidate on the outside of the envelope containing the official returns, will, it is hoped, prevent many trouble and suspense.
The plan ought to work to a charm, and will enable the papers to give full reports of the result in a day or two after the election.

Persons.

That venerable and esteemed gentleman,
Judge W. H. Battle, of Chapel Hill, is in the city.
President Holt is in the city, at the Yarborough, on business connected with the Agricultural Society.

Gov. Vance is expected to return today, and to bring Mrs. Vance with him.
The health of that esteemed lady shows slight improvement.

The Goldsboro Messenger says that Mr. Jacob Battle, of Rocky Mount, will move to Raleigh and associate himself with Gen. W. R. Cox in the practice of law.

R. N. Mitchell, Esq.

The attractive advertisement of this skilled artisan appears in this morning's issue. Mr. Mitchell has built a large boiler works at the foot of Martin street in this city and will engage exclusively in the manufacture of steam boilers, water tanks, &c. He is a first-class mechanic and especially skilled in his particular line. The product of his work is shown in over one hundred boilers in this State, all of which have been turned out during his four years' residence in this city. His work has been thoroughly and successfully tested and may be relied on in every instance.
Read his advertisement and profit thereby.

Preference for United States Senator.

By a resolution passed at the Wake County Democratic Convention, June 22d, 1878, it was made the duty of the Democratic County Executive Committee to cause polls to be opened on Tuesday, Nov. 5th, at which the Democrats of Wake county could have an opportunity to express their preference for the person nominated for the Democratic elected to the General Assembly from Wake, in the Democratic caucus for the position of United States Senator. The committee hereby designates the Registrars at the respective precincts as the persons to hold such primary election, and request that they shall hold an election as hereinafter prescribed, with such assistance from the Democratic Inspector of Election as may be necessary. This duty can be perfectly performed without in any manner interfering with their duty as election holders, holding the Congressional election under the law.

1. The Registrars are requested to make an opportunity to express their preference for the person nominated for the United States Senator, and will keep a list of names and, if desired, upon application at the Mayor's office in Raleigh.

2. All Democrats in Wake county in affiliation with the party are requested to vote, and the Registrar and Democratic poll-holders shall decide all contested cases, if any arise, after getting all the information as to the political status of the contested elector within their reach.

choice of the elector for United States Senator, or shall indicate his preference that the members elect shall remain make a return of the same, certifying the same to be correct, to Jos. A. Hay-brought up by the person bringing the return to the County Canvasser.

be a sufficient check and no books need be kept of the election.

This duty will involve some trouble, but as there is only a single officer to be seated for in the regular election, it is certain that the Registrar will not be put to great inconvenience in carrying out the expressed will of the Democratic party.
